Children's Day

In India, Children's Day is celebrated on 14th November every year to commemorate the birth anniversary of our first Prime Minister, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru. He loved children dearly and is fondly remembered as Chacha Nehru by them. After his death in 1964, his birthday was declared as Children's Day nationwide.

Pandit Nehru was very fond of kids and advocated children's education as he strongly believed that they were the future leaders of the nation. He was a strong believer of instilling rich moral virtues in children. He was of the opinion that children should be moulded from a young age properly so that they can become productive and responsible citizens of the country.

On this special day, most schools across the country celebrate it by organising socio-cultural programmes for children. Some of the events include poetry, recitation, fancy dress competition, singing and dancing events, skits and plays for children. Besides refreshments, kids are also gifted toys, clothes, stationery, chocolates, toffees and other interesting goodies. Sometimes, they also watch child-friendly films and shows.

Children's Day, therefore, emphasises the importance of showering love and affection to each child.

Guru Nanak Jayanthi

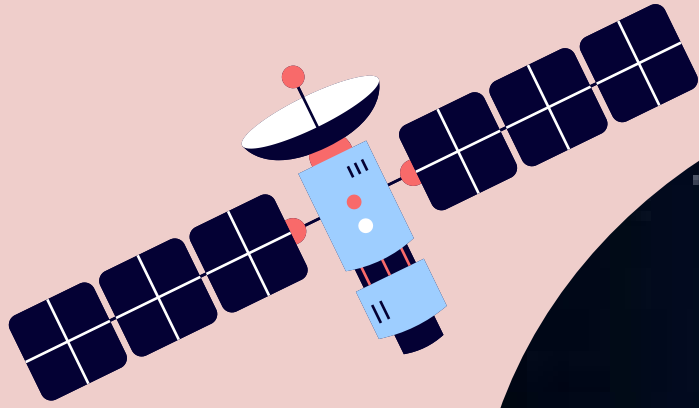

Guru Nanak Jayanti, or Gurpurab, is a vibrant and deeply significant festival celebrated by Sikhs worldwide, marking the birth anniversary of Guru Nanak Dev Ji, the esteemed founder of Sikhism. Known for his profound teachings on the oneness of God, equality, and compassionate service to humanity, Guru Nanak's message transcends religious and social divides, promoting a world anchored in justice, truth, and universal brotherhood. The date of this festival fluctuates each year as it follows the full moon day in the month of Kartik according to the Hindu lunar calendar, usually falling in October or November. Celebrations are characterized by a series of devout activities, including the Akhand Path, a continuous recitation of the Guru Granth Sahib, and vibrant Nagar Kirtans, where devotees process through streets singing hymns. Gurudwaras become centers of devotion with Kirtan singing and prayers, and the principle of Langar is beautifully demonstrated through free community meals, emphasizing equality and selflessness. Guru Nanak Jayanti is not just a religious occasion but also an opportunity to reflect on and embody the values of love, humility, and service, celebrating the legacy of Guru Nanak across diverse communities in India and beyond.

ISRO - Proba 3

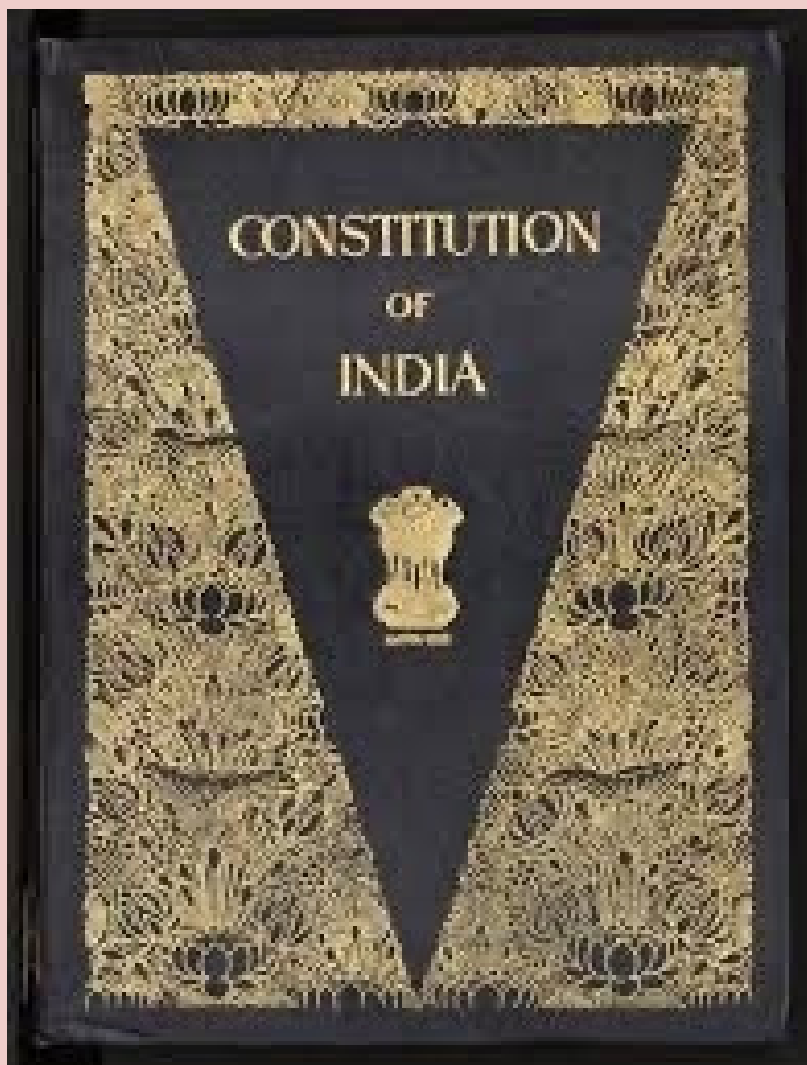

ISRO's PSLV-C47/Cartosat-3 Mission 3 marked a significant milestone for India. Launched on November 27, 2019, the mission carried the advanced Cartosat-3 satellite and 13 nanosatellites from the United States. Cartosat-3, an Earth observation satellite, showcased cutting-edge technology with a 25 cm resolution, the highest achieved by India to date. Its primary objective was to provide high-resolution images for urban planning, agriculture, disaster management, and strategic surveillance.

The Polar Satellite Launch Vehicle (PSLV-C47) flawlessly placed the satellites in a sun-synchronous orbit, further solidifying PSLV's reputation as a reliable launch vehicle.

The mission underlined ISRO's growing expertise in satellite imaging and international collaboration, cementing India's position in the global space industry.

Constitution Day

Constitution Day serves as a vital occasion for acknowledging the foundational legal document that outlines the principles and framework of a nation's governance. In the United States, September 17th is a day for citizens to reflect on the enduring significance of the U.S. Constitution, which was signed in 1787 and has since guided the country's democratic processes and safeguarded liberties. Educational programs often accompany the day, aiming to deepen public understanding of the Constitution's articles, amendments, and its pivotal role in shaping both the legal and political landscapes. Globally, countries celebrate their respective Constitution Days on dates that are significant to their national histories. For instance, India observes this day on November 26th, commemorating the adoption of its Constitution in 1949, which established India as a sovereign republic. These observances not only reinforce national identity but also remind citizens of their responsibilities and rights within a constitutional framework.

World Cancer Awareness Day

National Cancer Awareness Day is observed on the 7th of November in India every year since 2014 to create public awareness about early detection, prevention, and treatment of cancer.

On this day, various healthcare organisations, government agencies, and non-profit groups collaborate to organise awareness campaigns, seminars, and screenings to mark National Cancer Awareness Day and work towards reducing the burden of cancer nationwide.

Importance of National Cancer Awareness Day

Cancer is a broad term for many conditions affecting any region in the body. One distinguishing aspect of cancer is the rapid formation of aberrant cells that grow beyond their normal borders, infecting surrounding body parts and migrating to other organs, a process known as metastasis.

POEM

Winter Morning's

Winter is the king of shocomen Torming tree stumps into snow men. And houses into birthday cakes. And spreading love over lakes

The world looks good enough to bite
That's the season to be young with joy and happiness.

As i open my doors the snow falls from the top of the roof's.

winter is the sound of carolers singing sweet songs down the street Winter is the sight of snow falling greacefully from the sky like a ballerina dancing.

Unsung hero

Jhalkaribai

Born in 1830, in Bhojla village near Jhansi, Jhalkari Bai grew up to become a soldier and one of Rani Lakshmibai's trusted advisors. It is believed that she learnt horse riding and the art of weaponry at a very young age. She also learnt archery, wrestling and shooting from her husband, Puran Kori, who was a soldier in the army of Raja Gangadhar Rao the husband of Rani Lakshmibai. Her acts of bravery landed her career as a low-ranking soldier in Queen Lakshmibai of Jhansi's army. However, she quickly rose to be one of the Queen's trusted advisors. She also earned herself a position in Rani Lakshmi bai's women's army called the Durga Dal and often made important decisions on behalf of the queen.

At the height of the battle, she disguised herself as the queen, risking her life for her, fighting in place of her and allowing the queen herself to discreetly exit out of harm's way. This is what she is most well known for. However, what is little acknowledged is what a key role she played in the analysis and strategising of the battle itself, alongside Lakshmibai.

This story of Jhalkari Bai forms a part of the popular memory of the people of Bundelkhand. To date, her memory is alive in people's minds and her brave feats resurface in folklore. Many Dalit communities of the region look up to her as an incarnation of God and also celebrate Jhalkaribai Jayanti every year in her honour.
